

From: "johnjanice.carter@gmail.com"
johnjanice.carter@gmail.com

To: Robert Powell <srp18407@yahoo.com>

Sent: Sunday, April 1, 2012 12:35 PM

Subject: Campus in bloom

Always think of you in the spring. Here or NYC!

From: S. Powell srp18407@yahoo.com

To: "johnjanice.carter@gmail.com" johnjanice.carter@gmail.com

Sent: Sunday, April 1, 2012 5:40 PM

Subject: Re: Campus in bloom

04-01-2012

Janice:

Thanks for the wonderful Springtime photo from IU.

You're not going to believe the following:

I will be in Bloomington on April 13-14, to serve as one of the judges at the Gateway Poultry Show on the Monroe County Fairgrounds, 5700 West Airport Road.

I will be traveling with a poultry buddy of mine. The poultry club has arranged for me to stay at a hotel (not sure of the name) at 1751 North Stonelake Drive.

If you're going to be in town that weekend, we must co-ordinate a visit. I expect to arrive there around 8 P. M. on Friday. My poultry judging begins on Saturday morning, and I will be at the Fairgrounds all day Saturday, with a departure from Bloomington scheduled for around 4 or 5 P.M. on Saturday.

So, with any luck, I should have a first-hand opportunity to see "Bloomington in the Spring" once again.

Robert

From: "johnjanice.carter@gmail.com"
johnjanice.carter@gmail.com

To: S. Powell srp18407@yahoo.com

Sent: Sunday, April 1, 2012 9:59 PM

Subject: Re: Campus in bloom

I will be here. Working out of town but free from 7 pm on. Can't wait to see you!!!!

From: "johnjanice.carter@gmail.com"
johnjanice.carter@gmail.com

To: S. Powell <srp18407@yahoo.com>

Sent: Sunday, April 1, 2012 10:20 PM

Subject: Re: Campus in bloom

I think you are staying at the Super 8. If you want, you both can stay with us. We have 2 extra bedrooms and would love to have you

From: "johnjanice.carter@gmail.com"
johnjanice.carter@gmail.com

To: Robert Powell <srp18407@yahoo.com>

Sent: Tuesday, April 3, 2012 8:10 AM

Subject: Your visit

Are you driving or flying? On Saturday morning, you can follow me to the fairgrounds if you want. Do you think we can get together on Friday night? Dinner? And my offer is open to have house guests. I would love it after all the times you hosted me.

From: S. Powell srp18407@yahoo.com

To: "johnjanice.carter@gmail.com"
<johnjanice.carter@gmail.com>

Sent: Tuesday, April 3, 2012 6:18 PM

Subject: Robert to Bloomington

Driving. Yes, getting together on Friday night sounds good. Arrival time in Bloomington should be around 8 P.M. That might be too late for dinner, but perhaps we could focus on dessert or drinks or coffee? I think it's probably better if I stay at the motel where the poultry club has reserved a room for me. I appreciate very much the offer to stay at your place.

From: "johnjanice.carter@gmail.com"
johnjanice.carter@gmail.com

To: S. Powell srp18407@yahoo.com

Sent: Tuesday, April 3, 2012 7:53 PM

Subject: Re: Robert to Bloomington

Okay. Drink and or dessert. Call me when you arrive. 812-322-4437(cell.) home is 812-334-2797. Cell is better. It is Little 500 weekend so probably lots of traffic.

From: S. Powell srp18407@yahoo.com

To: "johnjanice.carter@gmail.com" johnjanice.carter@gmail.com

Sent: Tuesday, April 17, 2012 12:31 PM

Subject: Pound cake memories

Tuesday, April 17

Janice:

My trip to Bloomington was enjoyable and exhausting, but much too brief. I'm glad you were able to stop at the Fairgrounds. Regrettably, I wasn't able to get away, even for a half hour.

The Pound Cake and the smaller confectionery treasures were wonderful. Every slice of Pound Cake that I ate brought back to the surface years and years of pleasant memories of our long and rewarding friendship. The heart-shaped brownie and the fancy white treat were high-level gourmet wonders. I couldn't help but think about the wonderful aroma that surely filled your house as you baked these goodies.

I have the impression that the Indiana poultry breeders and exhibitors were happy with Robert Powell the poultry judge, so it seems likely that I'll be asked back. Next time, I'll fly and make sure I have time for a proper visit.

Thanks again for the Pound Cake and treats.

Robert

From: "johnjanice.carter@gmail.com"
johnjanice.carter@gmail.com

To: S. Powell srp18407@yahoo.com

Sent: Tuesday, April 17, 2012 2:09 PM

Subject: Re: Pound cake memories

I thought about you on your drive home. I hope you didn't encounter rain and wind. I could not have made that trip.

I do hope you return and stay with us next time. I only made the pound cake. A friend made the other treats for a shower the evening before.

I am just glad you are back safe and sound.

Sent from my iPhone

From: S. Powell srp18407@yahoo.com

To: "johnjanice.carter@gmail.com"
<johnjanice.carter@gmail.com>

Sent: Tuesday, April 17, 2012 2:20 PM

Subject: Wind and rain

The wind and rain were HORRIBLE on the trip back, when I was doing a lot of the driving. Finally, at Mansfield, Ohio we got off the highway and got a motel and finished the journey on Sunday morning.

Made it home in one piece. Mercifully, all my birds and animals were fine when I returned. Fifteen hundred miles is too much driving for a two-day period.